

The Nicolas Darvis story is important for every stock investor. He has inspired traders for many generations throughout countless countries. He made his fortune without the help of computers, mobile phones, fax machines, CNBC, Bloomberg or any of the technology we have today. He only had access to end-of-day data and a weekly copy of Barrons! All of his trading decisions were made while he was traveling & dancing, not sitting watching a live data screen all day. Time magazine ran an article on him in 1959 espousing his extreme success at such a young age. Starting with an account of only $10000, Darvas amassed a fortune of over $2.2 million dollars. Putting this into context, these were 1959 dollars and would be equivalent to over $20 million dollars today. Metastock programming code included
